

Recycle Coach at Work

Recycling is one of the best things each of us can do for the environment, yet recycling programs are in trouble because people are not very good at it.

By helping employees learn to be better recyclers companies can become more sustainable and contribute to the environmental health of their community.

Recycle Coach's Advocate program includes:

- What Goes Where recycling look-up
- Monthly Recycle or Not activity
- Incentive badge to encourage employee registration
- Free set-up
- Community recognition for being an advocate of workplace recycling education
